The Design Society
For the Year ending 30 June 2022

The trustees who are also directors of the charity for the purposes of the Companies Act 2006, are pleased to present their report together with the financial statements of the charity for the year ended 30 June 2022. The financial statements comply with the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005, the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended), the Companies Act 2006, the Memorandum and Articles of Association, and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102).

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objects

The objects of the charity are, within the context of design research, education, and practice, the following

- a) the advancement of design research, education, and practice;
- b) the advancement of environmental protection or improvement;
- c) the advancement of good citizenship or community development; and
- d) the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science as it relates to design;

Activities

The Charity's principal activities as a membership organisation are to run a series of international events, conferences and meetings in order to create and evolve a formal body of knowledge about design; to actively promote cooperation between those actively involved in design research, education, and practice; to produce and disseminate publications such as scientific journals, conference proceedings and reports; and to host a body of knowledge that is available to its members and to the general public.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

- Delivery of DESIGN 2022, endorsed by the Society (moved online due to COVID).
- Delivery of ICED21, owned by the Society, took place in Gothenburg, Sweden (moved hybrid due to COVID).
- Delivery of E&PDE 2021 Conference, co-owned by the Society and The Institution of Engineering Designers, took place in London, UK.
- The Special Interest Groups ("SIGs") of The Design Society have been active running various conferences and workshops linked to topics such as design education, sustainable design, health systems design and design management to name a few. In 2021-22 there were 16 active SIGs.
- A positive side-effect of the pandemic has been the creation of the "Design Society Chat Room" and the "Design Society Seminar Series", and numerous SIG webinars, which have enjoyed broad participation worldwide. This has reinforced the vibrant community, without the constraints of travel.
- The Committees of the Society work to improve collaboration, awareness and dissemination of knowledge in the field of design. In 2021-22 there were 13 active committees.
- The Design Society again endorsed several conferences, workshops, seminars, webinars and schools for younger members hosted by members of the Society and supporting cooperation between those actively involved in design, for the dissemination of knowledge. These were promoted on our website, newsletter and social media and the majority
- The Society has continued to improve its website, offering its members an improved user experience and easier access to papers including DOI, promoting the dissemination of knowledge.

- The Society has continued to publish the journal Design Science in collaboration with Cambridge University Press (CUP). The partnership with CUP now extends to a continual publication of “Proceedings of The Design Society”, currently including the ICED and DESIGN conference series, all available as fully open access mode thus further supporting the dissemination of knowledge.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Financial position

In the period of this report The Design Society organised and supported several events.

The Engineering & Product Design Education (“E&PDE”) 2021 conference donated a portion of its profits to continue its support and recognise the expertise and network of The Design Society.

There was an increase in membership income during this period compared with the prior period. The Society continues to work on boosting membership. Membership provides members with a discount on other owned, co-owned and endorsed events plus access to the network supporting personal development and cooperation (especially for younger members). A larger membership contributes to the opportunities that The Design Society can offer in terms of subsidies and support.

The Design Society holds all its financial reserves with HSBC on which it receives interest. The Design Society does not hold any investments.

The Design Society does not typically have any risks associated with its activities or finances but continues to consider its strategy in terms of Brexit, since many of its activities take place in Europe and around the world. To manage those risks, we now have an actively utilised Euro currency account.

Reserves policy

The Design Society has reserves of £188,252 as at 30 June 2022 (2021: £154,765). All are unrestricted and a total of £28,639 is designated for Special Interest Groups (2021: £28,69). Reserves are kept covering forecasted running costs for at least two years. This is to ensure the successful organisation of events which take place biennially. Estimated costs to reserve venues, deposits and administration costs is £45,000 per year.

The purpose of these reserves is to secure the daily running of the society, to fund development and importantly to support the running of owned, co-owned and endorsed events. The society trustees are always considering how to use the funds to support younger members, recognition of performance through awards, and wider dissemination of its publications and online presence to support its members.

PLANS FOR FUTURE PERIODS

The Trustees plan for the next year align with the aims and objectives of the charity. The Trustees will continue to support the SIG's to organise conferences and workshops towards the objective of supporting the advancement of design research, education, and practice. They will also consider establishing new SIG's in emerging scientific areas.

The Design Science Journal in partnership with The Design Society also acts as encouragement to publish the 'state of the art' within the field. Both supports the advancement of environmental protection or improvement as evidenced by a special track introduced to the ICED conference and special thematic issues of the Design Science Journal.

The advancement of good citizenship or community development will be supported through the society committees, SIG's and members through events and opportunities for cooperation. The society will encourage networking through the establishment of online events offering a platform for collaboration around topics of interest.

Finally, to achieve its objective of the advancement of the arts, heritage, culture or science as it relates to design, The Design Society is committed to events over the next year including International Conference on Engineering Design, NordDesign, International Conference on Human-Systems Integration, the Engineering and Product Design Education Conference, DSM Conference, International Conference on Research into Design, The Design Theory Workshop, Summer School on Engineering Design Research and Summer School on Tolerance Management.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

Governing document and Charitable Purpose

The Design Society is a Company Limited by Guarantee and is governed by its Memorandum and Articles of Association dated 29^h July 2015. The Design Society is a charity registered in Scotland with OSCR and has been a charity since 2001.

Appointment, Retirement and re-election of Trustees

Trustees (Board of Management) are elected by the members of the charitable company at the General Meeting which is held every two years. The Board of Management (Trustees) are proposed by the advisory board and voted for by members.

Trustees are nominated from the membership by the Advisory Board of the Design Society prior to the General meeting. The Advisory Board comprises 27 elected members of the Design Society, but these members are not trustees. The Advisory Board is advised of the retiring trustees and is requested to nominate new trustees before the General Meeting. All members are invited to nominate other members to the Advisory Board or other notable names within the academic category, and later elect the Advisory Board at the General Meeting.

Trustee Induction and Training

New trustees are inducted into the Board of Management through a series of preliminary meetings and through the use of the Design Society Handbook.

Organisation

The trustees meet regularly to administer the charity. Responsibility for the day-to-day activities of the charity is shared by the Board of Management and its administrator.

Risk management

The trustees have a risk management strategy which comprises an on-going review of the risks the charity may face, the establishment of systems and procedures to mitigate the identified risk, and the implementation of procedures designed to minimise any potential impact on the charity should those risks materialise.

Safeguarding

The charity does not work with vulnerable adults or children but has taken steps to understand the risks to support any members or partners who may do in the future. The charity has established committees to oversee any issues of its members and beneficiaries to ensure fairness in line with the general duties of care outlined in the 2005 Act.

Trustees' responsibilities in relation to the financial statements

The charity trustees (who are also the directors of The Design Society for the purposes of company law) are responsible for preparing a trustees' annual report and financial statements in accordance with applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

Company law requires the charity trustees to prepare financial statements for each year which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of The Design Society and of the incoming resources and application of resources, including the income and expenditure, of The Design Society for that period. In preparing the financial statements, the trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently;
- observe the methods and principles in the Charities SORP;
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent;
- state whether applicable UK accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements; and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records that disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and the group and hence taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The trustees are responsible for the maintenance and integrity of the corporate and financial information included on the charitable company's website. Legislation in the United Kingdom governing the preparation and dissemination of financial statements may differ from legislation in other jurisdictions.

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of The Design Society

I report on the accounts for the year ended 30 June 2022 set out on pages eight to sixteen.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. The charity's trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1)(a) to (c) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under Section 44(1)(c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of the independent examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with Section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and to comply with Regulation 8 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations

have not been met; or

- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Balance Sheet
At 30 June 2022

The charitable company is entitled to exemption from audit under Section 477 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to small charitable companies for the period ended 30 June 2022.

The members have not required the company to obtain an audit of its financial statements for the period ended 30 June 2021 in accordance with Section 476 of the Companies Act 2006.

The Directors acknowledge their responsibility for complying with the requirements of the Act with respect to accounting records and for the preparation of accounts.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the special provisions of Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006 relating to charitable small companies.

Notes to the Financial Statements for the year ended 30 June 2022

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparing the financial statements

The financial statements of the charitable company, which is a public benefit entity under FRS 102, have been prepared in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102), the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 and the Companies Act 2006. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

The most significant areas of key assumptions that affect the accounts are to do with the allocation of membership fees between the time period of membership i.e. between recognition in the current year and treatment as Income in Advance.

The comparative balances in these accounts have been restated in accordance with the Charities SORP (FRS 102). This is due to the prior year accounts being prepared under the FRSSE in error. The restatement solely affects what information is disclosed rather than amending any figures.

Going Concern

The Directors consider that there are no material uncertainties about The Design Society's ability to continue as a going concern for the next financial year whilst it seeks funding for further development. The Design Society was able to adapt its activities during the Covid-19 pandemic. The Directors continue to consider its strategy in terms of Brexit, since many of its activities take place in Europe and around the world.

Income

All income is recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities once the charity has entitlement to the funds, it is probable that the income will be received, and the amount can be measured reliably.

The following policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- Incoming resources from charitable trading activity are accounted for when earned. Charitable income is received by way of membership subscriptions and conference fee income as well as the income from publications and other resources for sale;
- Donations and gifts are included in full in the Statement of Financial Activities when receivable;
- Donated services and facilities are included at the value to the charity where this can be quantified. The value of services provided by volunteers has not been included in these accounts;
- Investment income is included when receivable; and
- Incoming resources from grants, where related to performance and specific deliverables, are accounted for as the charity earns the right to consideration by its performance.

The Design Society

Expenditure

Liabilities are recognised as expenditure as soon as there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to that expenditure, it is probable that a transfer of economic benefits will be required in settlement and the amount of the obligation can be measured reliably. Expenditure is accounted for on an accruals basis and has been classified under headings that aggregate all cost related to the category. Where costs cannot be directly attributed to particular headings they have been allocated to activities on a basis consistent with the use of resources:

- Charitable expenditure comprises those costs incurred by the charity in the delivery of its activities and services for its beneficiaries. It includes both costs that can be allocated directly to such activities and those costs of an indirect nature necessary to support them.
- Support costs include those costs associated with meeting the constitutional and statutory requirements of the charity and include the accountancy fees and costs linked to the strategic management of the charity. These have been allocated to charitable activities.

Taxation

The charity is exempt from corporation tax on its charitable activities.

Fund accounting

- Unrestricted funds are available for use at the discretion of the trustees in furtherance of the general objectives of the charity.
- Designated funds are unrestricted funds earmarked by the Trustees for particular purposes.
- Restricted funds are subjected to restrictions on their expenditure imposed by the donor or through the terms of an appeal.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets (excluding investments) are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The costs of minor additions or those costing below £1,000 are not capitalised.

Depreciation is provided at rates calculated to write off the cost of each asset over its expected useful life, which in all cases is estimated at 4 years. Impairment reviews are carried out as and when evidence comes to light that that the recoverable amount of a functional fixed asset is below its net book value due to damage, obsolescence or other relevant factors.

Investments held as fixed assets are revalued at mid-market value at the balance sheet date and the gain or loss taken to the Statement of Financial Activities.

Stocks and work in progress

These are accounted for at the lower of cost and net realisable value after making due allowance for obsolete and slow-moving items. Cost includes all direct costs and an appropriate proportion of fixed and variable overheads.
